

North Sumatra

The booming city of Medan, the capital of North Sumatra, is the economic and commercial center for this region. This is the largest city on the island of Sumatra, which has long attracted residents from all over Indonesia to come and live here. Because of this ethnic diversity, Medan is known for delicious culinary places, rich in many flavors. The city of Medan will welcome those of you who travel by air at Kualanamu International Airport (KNO). Located in Deli Serdang Regency, about 2 hours drive from Medan. In Medan, you can choose public buses, taxis, or rickshaws to get around. Local or Sudako minibuses are simple and inexpensive. Use this only if you have a little Indonesian so you won't miss your goal of stopping.

Gomak Noodles

Mie Gomak is a traditional curry noodle dish from Toba Batak. Mie literally means noodles and Gomak is original for 'digomak', which means preparation by hand. There are two ways to prepare this dish - in broth or fried. This noodle is pale orange in color, quite thick and square in shape. Red curry, flavorful, smooth but not too spicy. This dish is served with spices such as keris (shredded fried coconut) and sambalandaliman (chili sauce made from local Batak pepper) and boiled eggs can sometimes be requested as a topping. The best time to consume Mie Gomak is in cold weather because delicious spices will warm the body.

Ucok Durian

All durian lovers know the Ucok Durian shop! Previous Ucok Durian located in IskandarMuda, in overhang foot five, namely in front of the shops have been closed during the night. When the shop closed, Ucok Durian held a booth. Bang Ucok, the shop owner juggled the location by providing a table and chairs, so people could enjoy durian comfortably. Uniquely, when choosing durian there, you can choose yourself who wants sweet or a little bitter! Ucok Durian will choose it for you. If you are not satisfied with the contents of the durian, you can exchange your durian for another desired durian, because Ucok Durian always prioritizes customer satisfaction. That's why I never

Lake Toba

Lake Toba is an extraordinary natural wonder in the world. This large crater lake consists of an island almost the size of Singapore in the center. At more than 1,145 square km, and depth of 450 meters, Lake Toba is actually more like the ocean. This is the largest lake in Southeast Asia and one of the deepest lakes in the world. Feel the wind in your hair and do as the locals do by renting motorbikes to explore this beautiful part of the world. If you are on Samosir Island, take a day to explore by driving on the road that surrounds the island's edge. Although rough and unpaved in some places, this road offers some spectacular lake views from the highest point on the island. If you live in the popular village of TukTuk in Samosir, the best way to get around is to walk or wander, along the main road at a leisurely pace, cold weather because delicious spices will warm the body.

Lawang Hill

Bukit Lawang is located about 90 kilometers northwest of Medan, the capital of North Sumatra, and to the south of Gunung Leuser National Park. It is the gateway to the legendary Sumatran jungle with the terrain steep and muddy slope. Exploring the forest here is a true adventure. Explore the amazing jungle and be transported to a new world. This is a gentle giant from the forest, an orangutan, which is the main attraction here. Bukit Lawang is one of the best places in the world to meet this rare and endangered primate. See these graceful creatures swinging through the forest canopy as they search for fruit. This is one of the largest orangutan fort communities, with more than 5,000 of them living here. The Orangutan rehabilitation center is a place where orphans are trained to live in the wild and has been operating since 1973. Today, this place attracts visitors from all over the world who come here to catch a glimpse of these amazing orphaned creatures.

The Maimoon Palace

Built by Sultan Ma'mun Al Rashid Perkasa Alamsyah in 1887-1891, this palace has a total of 30 rooms in a 2,772 m<sup>2</sup> land. However, only one main room is open to the public, the throne room. Its architectural style is a cultural mix of Malay, Islamic and Moghal heritage. While the interior design takes on a more Spanish-Italian atmosphere. Take a picture of yourself wearing a traditional Malay Deli royal costume or sitting on the throne of the Sultan and His Queen. Collections of jewelry, antiques, and Royal gifts presented by the leaders of other countries' kingdoms are also on display here.

Tjong A Fie Mansion

Visiting this mansion will make you feel immediately transported back in history. Every furniture and accessory in this mansion is arranged exactly like a mansion that is still inhabited by its owner. Located in the center of Medan, this building has a combination of Chinese, Malay and Art-Deco influences. The large house continues to be maintained well among the modern structures around it. Tjong A Fie is a Chinese merchant who seeks better wealth in the city now known as Medan. He rose to become a wealthy businessman, respected leader, and philanthropist. With carvings, ornaments, antiques, and beautiful works of art, this large house is dedicated to his beloved wife. Here's a fun fact: Tjong A Fie is among three personalities who funded the construction of the Al Mashun Grand Mosque.

Berastagi

Berastagi The beautiful town of Berastagi in the beautiful Karo highlands, 70 km from Medan to Lake Toba. Located at an altitude of 1,300 meters, the city has a cool climate, ranging from 17-20 degrees Celsius, making a refreshing break from the heat of the city. The day is very pleasant while the night can be very cold. The landscape here is dominated by volcanic views far from Mount Sinabung and Mount Sibayak. On the western edge of the city, Gunaling Hill rises above the surrounding plain to provide some spectacular views of these two towering volcanoes. Berastagi is famous for its flowers, vegetables and fruits and its market is always full of activities.

Mount Sinabung

Traveling to a cool area of fresh air in the highlands is needed to soothe the eyes with an amazing view. Geographically positioned at 3 ° 10' North Latitude and 98 ° 23', 5' East Longitude, Mount Sinabung is located in Karo District, North Sumatra province. The majestic mountain with a height of 2,460 meters high has a total of four volcanic craters. The fertile volcanic soil and cool city temperatures make it ideal for growing fruits, vegetables and flowers. Berastagi flower and fruit market is a colorful paradise of fresh products. You will find exotic fruits and fragrant flowers in dozens of stalls. A fruit and flower festival is held once a year to celebrate the harvest season.
